Introduction

Organization means a social unit of people that is structured and managed to meet a need or to pursue collective goals. It has a structure that determines relationship between the different activities and the different members.

Home means a place of achieving peace, development and satisfaction for an individual and for group (family), with its management predominantly concerned with the quality of human relationship. Family members are start thinking and working together to achieve for common goals.

On account of the increasing value of time, limitations of resources, changing attitude of people, technological and industrial advancement, women now have to bear great responsibilities and multiple roles to play at home. The home management and running of the home now needs specialized knowledge, wide experiences and new type of skills. Hence management of the home is no more a mere question of housekeeping, it calls for a scientific attitude towards management as applied to the home and the same process is done in organization at huge level.

Operations Management in Home Management

Operations management is the management of an organization's productive resources or its production system. A production system takes inputs (what an organization have) and converts them into outputs (what an organization want). The conversion process is the predominant activity of a production system.

Home Management becomes a mean of using resources (what we have) for the attainment of family goals, (what we want). Thus, the home management is essential component for run the family in successful way.

Impact of Western culture, diminishing resources and spread of female education has had a great impact on our family, in adding to women taking up jobs outside the home have a tremendous influence on family life today. There is heavy crunch of resources today-money value, time and energy that is felt and realized by each family member at home. The various operation activities of the home starting from cooking, washing, cleaning, tailoring, repairing, decorating, etc.,

Further, the advancement of science and technology has brought a revolution in the households today. There is immense availability and use of various household appliances in Indian homes, starting from frost-free refrigerator, washing machine, micro oven, grinder, AC, geyser to computer all these electrical and electronic gadgets have been widely used in homes today. These appliances require adequate technical knowledge and skill for operation, maintenance and use. It is not an easiest process for illiterate or not technically updated persons. Therefore, home-management now is a challenge to every home maker to achieve development, happiness and peace at home and in the community.

Human Resource Management in Home Management

Human resource management, broadly speaking, is the process of achieving the best fit between individuals, jobs, organizations and the environment. It is the process of bringing people and organizations together so that the goals of each are met. It encompasses those activities designed to provide for and coordinate the human resources of the organization. It refers to those tasks and duties performed in organizations to provide for and coordinate human resource. In simple meaning, HRM means the process of Control and Direct the human resource by an authority for attaining the goal what they are planned.

Let's understand what human resource management is by relating it to home management. In HR, relationship between organization and their employees is the important tactics used for organization success when they are maintaining a good in relationship with their employees. Likewise, in home also for leading a good family without any problem or conflicts, a smooth relationship between the family members should be maintained.

In HRM, really begins with recruitment and placement. It is that selecting a right people for the right job. Hence, there should be clear understanding of work. Similarly, in family also for child's future to be happy, an exact and match for that child should be chosen. Hence, parents act like an HR manager here. The parents control and direct their child for achieving as a good human being for the view of society. The goal of the process is attaining good education and good job for children and Parents search for a correct person to match for their child.

While thinking of HR the next concept came into mind is training and development is training is provided to the workers to get the skills they need to perform in their job and development is to improve the performance in their work, similarly, in home after the birth of child, parents train their child to walk, talk that are needed to pursue in this world, and developing their child's knowledge by educating them. That is childcare performed by homemaker and supported by her husband and grown-up child in the family. Ultimate aim is well settle of the children in future.

Marketing Management in Home Management

Marketing is everywhere. Formally or informally, people and organizations engage in a vast number of activities that we could call as Marketing. Good marketing has become an increasingly vital ingredient for business success and profoundly affects our day-today lives it is embedded in everything we do-from the clothes we wear, to the websites we click on, to the ads we see.

As definition says that “Marketing is an organizational function and a set of process for creating, communication and delivering value to customers and for managing customer relationship in ways that benefit the organization and its share holders”. Thus, it is an art of choosing target markets and getting, keeping and growing customers through creating, delivering and communicating superior customer value.

For easy understanding of marketing management, let’s relate this with home management. In marketing, the main thing is attracting customer by delivering our valuable speech and make them to buy our product. In home also after the successful completion of board exam, he/she are convincing their parents, by putting some positive points of their interested course and make their parents to join he/she to their respective course to which they want. Thus, marketing related to home. In marketing, another main important concept is retaining customer. Retaining customer in the sense, making the people to buy our product regularly i.e. for a long period.

Likewise, in our home we love our mom’s food. However, it is not for a single day. Mom will make some extra care or extra goodness in it. Hence, it remains us to eat our home food regularly. The next main thing in marketing is new product development. Creating a new product or making some additional features in already existing product. In home, new product development is cooking, interior designing. Mom will make some innovation on some special occasion. This makes us to excite and attraction towards their food and housekeeping. Now-a-days people are more interested in buying the newly arrived products. Hence this makes marketing more successful.
